

Tom: Bill, when were you planning to get the energy product you were raving about?

Bill: I am not sure. But I really need more energy throughout the day so I can perform better at work. It's just that some of these products are very costly...so I am deciding what to do.

Tom: There is a new energy drink called Enercru. Have you heard of it?

Bill: So what's their promise? Have energy for one hour and fly to space? (Giggling)

Tom: Actually....it provides you with all-day energy that comes with a guarantee.

Bill: I am assuming it is a 30-day guarantee.

Tom: No...even better...a 60-day money-back guarantee.

Bill: Really?

Tom: Yeah...and if you order within the next week, they will include an extra drink at no charge.

Bill: How about that? It may be time to try something new. So why are you so educated about energy products?

Tom: Oh...I'm always tuned in with the health market. Weren't you talking about how you needed more energy to perform better at work?

Bill: Yes. Why do you ask?

Tom: Well, I was just wondering.

Bill: Oh... ok. Yeah, always tuned in right? (laughing)

Tom: You better believe it Billy boy. After all, isn't that what comrades are for?

Enercru. The powerful energy drink for better performance.
